

TCO Certified

Price list, version 6.5

List of fees for displays

New certificate basic model	Fee (EUR)
TCO Certified, for displays	5,700
TCO Certified Edge, for displays	2,850

Sales names and model names

All sales names used in the marketing of the product and the regulatory model name must be registered on the certificate. The sales name is the most unique name the brand owner uses to identify the product in marketing (for example, on the website). No wildcards are allowed in sales names.

Range of a certificate

- Only one model name may be placed on each certificate, but it may have up to 2 wildcards as long as a type key explaining the options for the wildcards is provided.
- Several sales names may be placed on the same certificate.

Hardware limitations on the same certificate

- All products on the same certificate must share the same display, size aspect ratio, resolution and chassis appearance (except for types of ports and color differences).

Changing a certificate

	Fee (EUR)
Startup administration fee for any change of the certificate (1-3)	500
1. Update of sales names	one included in start-up fee then 250 per sales name
2. Update of compliance data (e.g. critical components ¹⁾)	0
3. Upgrade to new generation ²⁾	2850

Discount (discount offers cannot be combined)

- The fee for a new certificate includes up to five sales names, as long as they are included in the same application.
- Brand owners who prepay for ten certificates in a product category receive one extra, totaling 11 certificates.
- Sales names and updates of a TCO Certified Edge certificate may be copied to the basic certificate, free of charge.

Annual fee

The TCO Certified certificate is valid for two years, and the TCO Certified Edge certificate is valid for one year. After that period, the validity period can be extended subject to an annual fee. If a certificate is not prolonged, it will be canceled and archived when it expires. To prolong an archived certificate, an opening fee of 1,000 EUR is charged

Annual fee	Fee (EUR)
TCO Certified, for displays	2,850
TCO Certified Edge, for displays	1,900

New customers

For new customers, TCO Development requires advance payment up to a limit of EUR 10,000. Once the limit is reached, advance payment is no longer required.

Comments

- ¹⁾ If the certified product is changed, an update of the certificate is mandatory.
- ²⁾ The validity period for an upgraded certificate is the same as for the original certificate plus 12 months. Once the certificate is upgraded, the original certificate is canceled.

List of fees for all other product categories

New Certificate	Fee (EUR)
TCO Certified	5700
TCO Certified Edge	2850

Sales names and model names

All sales names used in the marketing of the products and all regulatory model names must be registered on a certificate. The sales name is the most unique name the brand owner uses to identify the product in marketing (for example, on the website). No wildcards are allowed in sales names. Up to 2 wildcards (*) are allowed in model names as long as a type key is provided.

Range of a certificate

- Several regulatory model names may be placed on the same certificate as long as they are all marketed under one sales name.

Hardware limitations on the same certificate

- All products on the same certificate must share the same chassis appearance (except for types of ports and color differences).
- For headset products, all products on a certificate must be either wired or wireless, and share the same chassis appearance (except for stereo, mono, color or headband).

Updates and changes of a certificate

	Fee (EUR)
Startup administration fee for any change of the certificate (1-3)	500
1. Update of model names	0
2. Update of compliance data (e.g. critical components ¹)	0
3. Upgrade to new generation ²	2850

Discount (discount offers cannot be combined)

- Brand owners who prepay for ten certificates in a product category receive one extra, totaling 11 certificates.
- Sales names and updates of a TCO Certified Edge certificate may be copied to the basic certificate, free of charge.
- If an identical product is sold under several sales names, contact TCO Development for a possible discount.

Annual fee

The TCO Certified certificate is valid for two years, and the TCO Certified Edge certificate is valid for one year. After that period, the validity period can be extended subject to an annual fee. If a certificate is not prolonged, it will be canceled and archived when it expires. To prolong an archived certificate, an opening fee of 1,000 EUR is charged

Annual fee	Fee (EUR)
TCO Certified	2,850
TCO Certified Edge	1900

New customers

For new customers, TCO Development requires advance payment of up to EUR 10,000. Once the limit is reached, advance payment is no longer required.

Comments

- ¹ If the certified product is changed, an update of the certificate is mandatory.
- ² The validity period for an upgraded certificate is the same as for the original certificate plus 12 months. Once the certificate is upgraded, the original certificate is canceled.

General provisions – VAT and penalty fee

All fees in this price list are net amounts presented exclusive of VAT and all other sales and excise taxes and duties and any other governmental charges imposed.

All invoices must be settled within 45 days of the invoice date, Late payments will result in a fee of 250 EUR per invoice to cover the administrative costs associated with late payments.

The penalty fee referred to in clause 12 of the General Terms of the TCO Certified License Agreement is EUR 20,000.

The sub-licensing fee referred to in clause 2.2 of the General Terms of the TCO Certified license agreement is EUR 5,000/year. (This fee is charged once every year for the sub-licensing agreement between a brand and TCO Development and it covers an unlimited amount of certified products sub-licensed during that year.)

For more information, please contact:

TCO Development
Certification Team
e-mail: certification@tcodevelopment.com

tcocertified.com